OFFICIAL

INSPECTOR GENERAL: The Office of Criminal Investigations (OCI) is the investigative arm of the NASA Inspector General (IG). The OCI is an independent entity and reports directly to Robert Cobb, the NASA IG, in Washington D.C. The primary mission of this component is to conduct criminal and civil investigations of reported or suspected fraudulent acts by employees, contractors, and others relating to the administration of NASA contracts and programs. Although emphasis is placed on major procurement fraud, (particularly allegations of defective/substandard parts, mischarging, kickbacks, bid rigging, and research fraud), investigations are also conducted of theft, conflict of interest, environmental and hazardous waste violations, health care fraud, and computer related crimes. OCI also provides fraud briefings for Government and contractor employees that are designed to highlight potential risks concerning fraud and related matters. Suspected violations can be reported by calling 867-4714 locally, the toll free Hotline at 1-800-424-9183, or by writing NASA Inspector General, P. O. Box 23089, L'Enfant Plaza Station, Washington, D.C. 20024. The OIG Cyber-Hotline can be accessed at www.hq.nasa.gov/office/oig/hq. (OIG)

PHOTOGRAPHIC AND VIDEOGRAPHIC SUPPORT: Request for photographic and/or videographic support may be obtained by calling the Aerospace Imaging customer service desk at 867-4308 located in KSC Headquarters Building, Room 2340. Support is also available at the Cape, in Building 1605, at the pickup/drop-off service desk and can be obtained by calling 853-5765. For more information on the wide range of services available visit website: www.Aerospaceimaging.com. (PZ-J-C)

TOUR THE WATERS SURROUNDING KSC DURING EEAW - 4/21 & 4/22: Tour and observe the aquatic resources of the waters surrounding KSC during Environmental & Energy Awareness Week, 4/21 & 4/22. There will be several 1-hour boat trips per day in the Banana River (10am-11am and 1pm-2pm). They will start and stop from the boat dock on the Northeast side of the Banana River Bridge on the NASA Causeway. These trips will travel north to the pepper flats area and back. Participants will learn about the different monitoring and research projects that are conducted in the waters surrounding KSC. This will include pointing out the different types of Seagrass, discussion of water quality research, manatee and dolphin research, and impoundment research. Participants will also be able to observe the diverse and abundant wildlife found in the Banana River and surrounding habitats. Permission from supervisor is needed, space is limited. Contact Russ Lowers at 476-4124 by April 16th to participate. (TA-C3)

KSC EXOTICS BOAT TOUR DURING EEAW - 4/21 & 4/22: Brazilian pepper-tree (Schinus terebinthifolius) is one of the most aggressive of the invasive non-native plants in Florida. On KSC, the Brazilian pepper-tree is invading aquatic and terrestrial habitats, greatly reducing the quality of native biotic communities. Join a one hour Brazilian pepper boat tour during Environmental & Energy Awareness Week, 4/21 & 4/22, to the saltmarsh impoundments in the Banana River. There will be several 1-hour boat trips per day in the Banana River (11-12 and 2-3). They will start and stop from the boat dock on the Northeast side of the Banana River Bridge on the NASA Causeway. See how this impact has allowed exotic plants like Brazilian pepper to colonize and overtake the impoundment. How does this impact the environment? What are we doing now to restore these natural areas back to their original conditions? Participants will learn the identification of the plants, health concerns, and control/eradication techniques. Permission from supervisor is needed, space is limited. Contact Frank Kline at 867-8418 by April 16th to participate. (TA-C3)

SOLAR ARRAY TUBES PROTECT SPACEFLIGHT FILM: Join this tour on 4/21 at 11 A.M. - The Film Storage Building, M6-639, has a special dehumidification system to maintain the stringent requirements of preserving historical original space flight film. The solar array dehumidification system removes moisture from the storage space and then electrically-heats the air. The system uses the sun's energy instead of electricity to recharge the dehumidification system. You will visit the latest evacuated-tube solar array up close! You will get a chance to examine all the pumps, gages, and other working components of the solar system. Total tour time is 45 minutes. Vans will pick up participants from the Environmental and Energy Awareness Welcome tent in front of O&C Building at 11 a.m. on April 21st. Permission from supervisor is needed, space is limited. To participate, contact the Shannah Trout at 867-8443. (TA-C3)

WHERE DOES KSC'S WATER GO?: When you flush the toilet at KSC or CCAFS, where does the water go? It goes to the CCAFS Regional Wastewater Treatment Facility located at the north end of Scrub Jay Road. Approximately 600,000 gallons of wastewater per day, collected from KSC and CCAFS, are treated beyond regulatory requirements and then discharged to the surficial aquifer via percolation ponds. Come take a one hour guided tour (1-2 p.m.) of this exceptional facility during Environmental and Energy Awareness Week on April 21st and 22nd. Departure will be from the EEAW Welcome Table. Permission from supervisor is needed, space is limited. To participate, contact Diane Ely at 867-1083 by April 16th. (TA-C3)

PHOTOVOLTAIC SOLAR PANEL ARRAY TOUR ON APRIL 21ST AND 22ND FROM 12-1 The SGS Energy Management is offering a tour of the Photovoltaic System at Field Mill Site 18 on April 21st and 22nd, from 12-1 p.m. during the Environmental and Energy Awareness Week. Total tour time is 1 hour. The Photovoltaic Array provides 1 KW (energy used to power approximately 10 computer monitors) of clean power to one of NASA's rural weather monitoring field sites. The monitoring sites are an important part of the Spaceports Launch Pad Lightning Warning System (LPLWS). The PV array replaces a diesel generator with solar energy. It is in a remote location, so long pants and closed-toed shoes are recommended. Vans will pick up participants from the Environmental and Energy Awareness Welcome tent. Permission from supervisor is needed, space is limited. To participate, contact Shannah Trout at 867-8443 by April 16th. (TA-C3)

MANATEE TOUR IN CELEBRATION OF EEAW - APRIL 22 (THURSDAY ONLY): The protected waters of KSC provide ideal habitat for one of Florida's most endearing creatures, the Manatee. Each spring, manatees leave their winter range in south Florida and migrate to the Banana River and Indian River Lagoon in large numbers. During the spring of 2003, around 400 manatees showed up in the waters of KSC and the Merritt Island National Wildlife Refuge and this represented about a quarter of the east coast population. This is the largest warm weather concentration of manatees we know of anywhere in their range. During the one-hour tour we will travel to Haulover Canal from the VAB Area/Parking Lot E to view these interesting aquatic mammals and learn about their life history. The tour will leave from the EEAW Welcome Table. Permission from supervisor is needed, space is limited. To participate, contact Shannah Trout at 867-8443. (TA-C3)

MERRITT ISLAND NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE VISITOR CENTER TOUR 4/21 and 4/22: The Merritt Island National Wildlife Refuge is an overlay of KSC and was established in 1963. The primary purpose of the Refuge is providing habitat for migratory birds and endangered species. The Refuge provides a place for people too. The Visitor Center is an interesting place to begin your refuge visit, as it contains exhibits, movies, trails and more. During your one-hour tour, you will visit the Center, go on a hike, and learn more about the refuge and some of its wild creatures. Departure for the tour will be from the EEAW Welcome Tent at 10 a.m. We will be in front of the O&C Building on Wednesday, April 21, and at the VAB Area/Parking Lot E on Thursday, April 22. Permission from supervisor is needed, space is limited. To participate, contact Shannah Trout at 867-8443. (TA-C3)

POPULAR SCRUB JAY TOUR IN CELEBRATION OF EEAW - 4/21 (WEDNESDAY ONLY) - The lands of the Kennedy Space Center provide one of the last strongholds for the Florida Scrub Jay. This colorful and gregarious bird is losing ground as Florida's scrub lands are developed. During the one-hour field trip held on April 21, in celebration of Earth Day, one of our Refuge personnel, Mr. Dorn Whitmore, will show you Scrub Jays up close and discuss how KSC lands are managed for this threatened species. Wear comfortable walking shoes (no sandals please) and it is advisable to bring sunscreen, bug spray, and a hat. Meet at the EEAW Welcome Table in front of the O&C Building at 12 noon. If you attended the tour last year, please give others a chance to see the Florida Scrub Jay. Permission from supervisor is needed, space is limited. To participate, contact Shannah Trout at 867-8443. (TA-C3)

CAN ECOSYSTEMS ON KSC EFFECT GLOBAL CLIMATE CHANGE? Rising atmospheric CO₂ has the potential to stimulate carbon accumulation in ecosystems through direct effects on photosynthesis and growth of plants. There is reason to believe that this would mitigate a significant amount of the CO₂ added each year to the atmosphere through the burning of fossil fuels and tropical deforestation. But would the stimulation of vegetation growth by rising atmospheric CO₂ be limited by availability of water and nutrients? The answer to this fundamental question is critical for evaluating the impacts of global climate change on the natural ecosystems that provide the food, fuel and fiber for all of human activities. Since May of 1996, we have operated 16 open top chambers in a scrub-oak ecosystem on KSC. Can natural ecosystems utilize atmospheric carbon added to the atmosphere by human activities? Meet at the EEAW Welcome Table in front of the O&C Building at 11p.m. on April 21st to witness this experiment, and possibly see some Florida Scrub Jays. The tour will be given by Ross Hinkle, Dynamac Corp. Permission from supervisor is needed, space is limited. To participate, contact Shannah Trout at 867-8443. (TA-C3)

NUTRITION TIP FROM THE KSC FITNESS CENTER: Eating a couple of apples a day may significantly cut heart disease risk, according to a new study of the health benefits of fiber consumption – suggesting that such high-fiber carbohydrates should be embraced, not avoided, experts say. There is an inverse association between fiber consumption and risk for heart disease. For every 10 grams of fiber consumed per day, the risk of developing heart disease decreased 14 percent, and the risk of dying from heart disease decreased 27 percent. Fiber from fruits such as apples appeared to be slightly more protective than cereal fiber, lowering the risk of coronary disease death by 30 percent. Results were similar for men and women, researchers reported. Apples are one of the richest sources of fruit fiber. One medium, tennis ball-sized apple contains 5 grams of fiber, of both soluble and insoluble types, and one slice of whole-wheat bread contains 2 grams of fiber, according to Nutrition Facts for both products. Quality of carbohydrates is important. These findings indicate that consumers should embrace, not avoid, fiber- and phytonutrient-rich fruits like apples for their better health.

HEALTH EDUCATION & WELLNESS PROGRAM DIET, EXERCISE AND WEIGHT LOSS APRIL 2004

Overweight and obesity is a serious problem for millions of American adults and children. It is a disease of excesses – an excess of caloric intake in relation to the calories burned. The typical American diet is partly at fault. But lack of exercise is also to blame. Controlling body weight is an important key to good health, physically, emotionally and mentally. Packets on diet, exercise and weight loss will be available at all medical facilities and upon request to Health Education Program, 867-3414. (TA-C2)
